

Covid-19 Update

Life and Times Video Perth is still open for business during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The mandatory distancing laws mean that I will not be filming or interviewing people in public places or aged care homes. But I can still film life story videos at homes, adhering to the new Government regulations

You are also encouraged to utilise our on-line services, where possible.

This table outlines the services we provide and any current temporary changes that are in place until business returns to normal.

HOME VIDEO SERVICE	UPDATE	STATUS
Online home video editing	I can still create for you a special home video using your own family, holiday and travel shots. This includes videos and still photo montages. Simply send me your footage online from anywhere within Australia.	Available
Family video production	Filming family time capsules (snapshots as your family grow) and legacy videos (life stories, family histories, testimonials) may only proceed in certain circumstances. * See conditions below	Available in some situations
Live family events	Celebrating and capturing live special family events videos (like anniversaries, birthdays, and family reunions) are currently on hold.	Not Available

 While the social distancing guidelines are in place, we will not interview or film people in public places, hospitals, retirement villages etc.*
